What you'll learn

Adult Maths courses cover a range of key skills: number knowledge, fractions/decimals/ percentages, measures/shape/space, data & statistics. This knowledge is applied, as much as possible, to real-life scenarios to embed Maths in everyday life and develop relevant problem-solving skills.

What will this course cost me?

No fees.

A typical week

Monday evening classes from 6-8pm with an expectation of further self-study through tutor-set work or online resources.

How will I be assessed?

All Maths courses are assessed by final exams – three papers for GCSE and two for Functional Skills.

Where can it lead to?

A GCSE grade 4 or Functional Skills Level 2 are the minimum requirement for most courses at Level 3 and above. Many employers also require these qualifications to evidence the skills considered vital in the modern workplace.

Entry requirements

Anyone over 19, without a grade 4 or C in GCSE Maths.

Good to know

All applicants will complete detailed assessments before courses begin to establish current Maths knowledge and skills, and provide guidance on which course and level is appropriate.
